RETURN OF THE TETRAD* by CHRISTOPHER McINTOSH

Published by Mandrake of Oxford 2013.

New book, price:135 DKK (17.5 EUR, 23 USD, 15 GBP).

Dr. Christopher McIntosh writes the following about his new exciting and adventurous occult novel: 'I'm pleased to announce the publication of my novel The Return of the Tetrad with Mandrake of Oxford, the story of an esoteric adventure cum spiritual quest, told in the first person. It's a book with a long history. I began it in the 1970s, more as a kind of reflective exercise than with any thoughts of publication, but "books have their fates", as they say. It lay fallow, apart from small changes, for a couple of decades and was then published in Prague in Czech translation by my friend Vladislav Zadrobilek. Another Czech friend, Michal Pober, made suggestions for certain improvements, but I kept putting off the job of revising the English version. Finally last year I got down to doing a thorough revision and writing a completely new ending. Mogg Morgan of Mandrake accepted it and my friend Leigh McCloskey, a visionary artist of genius as well as an actor and writer, allowed me to use for the cover his superb image of the Magus from the set of Tarot trumps that he designed.

The novel is partly a roman à clef, some of whose characters will be recognizable to those who knew the esoteric scene in England in the 1960s and 70s, when the story is set. I hope all those who read it will enjoy sharing the adventure that it describes.'

Dr. Christopher McIntosh is a well know scholar of esotericism and recognized expert on the Rosicrucians. He has written many important books since the late 1960s, such as The Astrologers and their Creed (1969), Eliphas Lévi and the French Occult Revival (1972), The Rosy Cross Unveiled (1980), The Swan King: Ludwig II of Bavaria (1982), The Devil's Bookshelf (1985), and The Rose Cross and the Age of Reason (1997).
